VOLUME XLIX

(Provincial Court of Maryland, 1663-1666)

This, the 49th volume of the series and the 4th of the Provincial Court Records, covering the period 1663-1666 forms a valuable addition to our legal and historical material of the seventeenth century. The Editor's letter of transmittal is in reality a very enlightening résumé of the genesis of Maryland's legal development, and the administration of justice in her borders.

The matters brought before the Provincial Court during the four years included in this volume are very numerous and cover a great variety of subjects. Perhaps the majority of the cases are suits for debt brought before the court in order to secure a judgment against the debtor, and execution against his property and person, the latter resulting in imprisonment, if the debt were not paid. Many of the entries have sufficient historical, personal, or human interest to render them deserving of the reader's attention.
